puts you in

PERSPECTIVE will help you see more clearly those events and issues which exert such a tremendous influence in our lives as individuals, often collectively as a nation and many times as the entire universality of man.

PERSPECTIVE is really more than news, more than background information, more than expert opinion. And yet it embodies all these elements. It is the forum where often opposing points of view are subjected to the challenge of examination . . . the test of probing analysis. Events and issues will often be viewed not as entities in themselves, but in juxtaposition to other happenings and philosophies.

PERSPECTIVE will look ahead as well as backward, concentrating as it does on the "Why?" of events, not just the immediacy of "What" or "How."

PERSPECTIVE will cater to a wide range of interests. It will interpret without editorializing. It will not shun controversy. Within broad bounds of taste no subject will be taboo . . . neither will the humorous side of developments be neglected.

PERSPECTIVE, a new section of The Sunday Sun, will put a man against the news to put it in perspective. Specialists from all fields will be called upon to augment the best resources of The Sun's staff in Baltimore, Washington, Saigon and its eight foreign bureaus. Articles from leading international journals of opinion and analysis will also be published.

In the near future, articles will appear by: Sir Denis

W. Brogan, a prominent British political scientist; Walter Lippman, dean of American political columnists; Dr. John W. Fischer, president of Teachers College, Columbia University; Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, Jr., former executive director of the CIA; Chester L. Cooper, Institute of Defense Analyses and former adviser to Ambassador Averill Harriman at the 1962 Geneva Conference and on Vietnam negotiations; Brigadier General Samuel B. Griffith 2d, USMC (Ret.) author of works on the Chinese Communist Army of Mao Tse-tung treatise on guerrilla warfare.

PERSPECTIVE puts YOU in the picture of today's events and issues! Look for it next Sunday in The Sunday Sun.
